

Sometimes Allah will take us back to something to complete it, but it is to show us (لا إله الا الله).

We see how "Recite in the Name of your Lord" – Allah takes us to stories, journeys, nurturing so relatable to us so that we attach to Him more, love Him more and believe in Him more.

All of our stories, experiences and nurturing have been customized for us. So we have feelings for it and even more is that it is our Rabb Who took us on that journey.

Sometimes the nurturing can be a long process and sometimes the nurturing can be direct, but it is all beautiful.

Sometimes the nurturing can be personal and sometimes the nurturing can be together. But when we are together, everyone will be in the story.

Allah guides us to stories and journeys, but in the end, only the Face of Allah will remain and to Him we will return.

Allah nurtures us because He loves us. And we will accept His nurturing when we love Him. It is love that connects us to Allah and love that connects us to each other.

To prepare for the love of Allah and love of the Prophet (ﷺ) is so great that it is as if a person has prepared for everything and has done everything.
